Unfortunately not. LADOT is still meeting with the contractor to finalize their phasing plan. They will have the info at the meeting though.

One more question, do you have an estimate in October when the construction will begin?

Thanks David. Really good to see this moving forward.

Did you invite USC (David), Expo Park (Ana), and Darryl Holter to the construction update meeting as well?

Figueroa Corridor Partners,

We are pleased to announce that LADOT has signed a contract with All American Asphalt as the builder for the MyFigueroa streetscape project, and construction on MyFigueroa is right around the corner – breaking ground in October, 2016!

We will provide more specific updates on the construction schedule in the coming weeks on the project website. In the meantime, here are some construction details to help you better understand what to expect:

- Traffic lane closures and sidewalk closures, when needed, will be limited to the hours between 9:00am and 3:00pm Monday through Friday. There may be limited construction on Saturdays later in the construction process, but LADOT considers it unlikely at this time. No work is expected to be scheduled for Sundays.
- There may be limited night construction (7:00pm to 6:00am) in the future. This would expedite completion of the project, though it is not expected at this time. In the case that night construction is deemed necessary, there will be an opportunity for community input prior to scheduling.
- Some areas of this project will likely be affected by the City's Holiday Season Street Closure Restrictions (Thanksgiving to New Year's Day). Each year, the City of Los Angeles prohibits street closures and construction in specific areas to avoid disruption to the holiday shopping season. The exact dates and locations for 2016 have not been announced but will most likely include part of MyFigueroa.

If you have more questions, we invited our corridor partners to meet with LADOT staff managing the construction contract. Please complete this doodle poll by the end of day tomorrow (9/9) to let us know your availability.

Many thanks in advance,

-- David
